PETITION TO REVIVE

Sir:

Enclosed is a Petition to Revive an unintentionally delayed abandonment of a patent application, as cited above. The applicant was late in filing of a Declaration in this application. Thus, on September 26, 2002, applicant filed a signed Declaration in this application. Applicant also submitted a check for $65.00, covering the balance due for that filing.

Applicant stated that any additional extension fees that are due should be debited against the Deposit Account # 040731. These can be seen upon the attached copy of the submission document.

In addition, the circumstances under which the Declaration was filed, late, was due to an unintentional delay. Thus, this Petition to Revive, due to the entire delay being unintentional, is being filed under 37 C.F.R. 1.137 (b).

While the Declaration has been previously filed herein, a copy of the same is enclosed again.

It is not known if a Terminal Disclaimer is required under C.F.R. 1.137 (d), and perhaps the examiner can advise as to whether a Terminal Disclaimer is required, during the prosecution of this application.

Enclosed is a Petition fee in the amount of $650.00, to cover the cost for this Petition to Revive an unintentionally abandoned patent application.

Respectfully submitted,

Paul M. Denk
